DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-21, drawn to a composition of matter.
- II. Claims 22-25, drawn to a DNA, vector and host cell.
- III. Claims 26-40, 43-51, drawn to a process for preparing a pharmacologically active compound.
- IV. Claim 41-42, drawn to a process for preparing compound with a derivatized compound.
- V. Claims 52-56, drawn to a composition with an effector molecule.
- VI. Claims 57-62, drawn to a process for preparing a composition with a randomize peptide that binds to a target epitope.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I, II and V are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are drawn to structurally different compounds with different effects and mode of actions.

Inventions III, IV and VI are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are drawn to distinct methods comprising different components, modes of operation and functions or effects.

Inventions (I, II and V) and (III, IV and VI) are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are drawn to different compounds and different, distinct processes.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, and the search required for Group I is not required for Groups II-VI, specifically the literature journals, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1639

Claims 1, 22, 26, 41, 52 and 57 are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising:

If any one of the Groups I-VI, above is elected, applicants are to elect a single species:

Composition (as recited in e.g., claim 1). Applicants are to elect a single species of the composition. Claim 2 is a subgenus. A species will recite all the variables of the formula. Also, whether the peptide composition is a monomer or multimer.

If Group III, is elected:

In addition to the composition above, applicants are to elect one species from each of subgroups A and B as follows:

A). Selection process as recited in claim 27.

- i. Yeast -based screening
- ii. Rational design
- iii. Protein structural analysis
- iv. Phage display library screening
- v. E. coli display library
- vi. Ribosomal library
- vii. Chemical peptide library

Art Unit: 1639

B). Protein of interest (as recited in e.g., claim 30 or 31. Note a species of the receptor is required. Cell surface is a genus.)

B). Peptide as recited in claims 33-35 i.e., a species of e.g., EPO-mimics. (The species can be selected in Tables 4-20 as recited in claim 39)

If Group IV, is elected:

In addition to the composition above, applicants are to elect:

Derivative of the compound as recited in claim 42 i.e., a species of the derivative.

If Group V or VI, is elected:

In addition to the composition above, applicants are to elect:

A). Effector molecule. Note that claim 52 lists a genus, not a species. A species is recited in e.g., claim 56 i.e., only one species.

Each of the species in the composition, for example, differs in structure and possibly effect. A prior art reference anticipating one species would not render obvious the other species.

Art Unit: 1639

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
